Tannino™ 50

Encapsulated Tannin

Due to their natural, intrinsic astringency properties, tannins are beneficial in improving manure consistency and overall barn environment.

Key Advantages of Encapsulated Tannins

- Antibacterial Activity – Tannins form strong compounds with proteins and other macro-molecules, creating a layer protecting animal cells.
- Stabilize Gastrointestinal and Feed pH – Thanks to their acidic pH, tannins can acidify intestinal contents, thus supporting a healthy microbiome.
- Astringency Action – Tannins can reduce intestinal peristalsis, allowing for a better absorption of nutrients and liquids.
